

MR. GORMAN TALKS
TO THE PRESIDENTA LONG INTERVIEW AT THE WHITE HOUSE TO-DAY.

This Is the Day of Fate for the Tariff Bill, and Action That May Be Taken on the Measure—The Situation of Affairs in the House.

WASHINGTON, July 23.—[Special]—Mr. Gorman called on the president this morning and had a long conversation with him. It is now said that unless all signs fail the fate of the tariff bill will soon be settled. Two or three informal conferences of the democrats were held yesterday. One of the most interesting questions to the outside world, in view of the attempt of Senator Vilas representing the administration, to take the duty from refined sugar, has been the attitude to be taken by the Louisiana senators. Yesterday Senator Caffery said to a correspondent: "If the house will not agree to the senate measure this fact must go before the country in its proper light. We have done the best we could and given to the people the best bill that was possible."

Every one is on the qui vive over the death struggle which is to take place in the senate to-day. If Senator Vilas needs any assistance to get his sugar motion before the senate he will probably find the republicans ready to help him, and there will be three or four democratic senators, it is said, who will back him up. The parliamentary question involved is a very delicate one. The house bill provided for free sugar. The senate bill amended this, and provided for a duty of 40 per cent on raw sugar, one-eighth of a cent per pound on refined sugar, and an additional one-tenth of a cent on refined sugar from bounty countries. Senator Vilas by his motion Friday proposed that the senate should recede from the one-eighth of a cent on refined sugar, leaving the rest of the schedule as it is. The point made against his resolution is that the senate amended the schedule as a whole, and that it can only recede from the whole and not from a part.

It needs a defection of three only to beat the bill, and it is said that if the senate bill can not go through, Brice, Gorman, and one or two others will see to it that no bill goes through. The uncertain quantity in calculations just now is Senator Irby of South Carolina. It is said that he was in close conversation yesterday with an avowed enemy of the bill, and it is known that when the measure passed the Senate July 3 he would have voted against it had the Louisiana senators both stuck to their promise to do the same.

No man knows what will happen in the senate to-day. The bill may be killed before night and, on the other hand, some combination may be made which will give it a new lease of life. A bill, which has passed the house, been amended by the senate, and put into conference, can be killed in only one way, and that is by a motion to postpone either to a set date or indefinitely. When a vote is reached on sugar, coal, iron, or any of the other test schedules, it would then be the ordinary thing to expect a motion to postpone the consideration of the bill indefinitely.

This would kill the bill forever, as it could not be reconsidered, although technically it would be still alive. Should the democrats desire to hold the bill over until the next session they could carry through a motion to postpone to some particular date before March 4, 1895. No other course is possible in the final disposition of the bill, and the President will have nothing whatever to say about it unless a bill should reach him which has been agreed upon by the two houses.

If the Vilas motion is allowed to stand it will be an absolute deathblow to the American Sugar Refining company, otherwise known as the sugar trust, which in that event will have to pay 40 per cent on its raw material, and have no additional protection on its manufactured products. It is claimed the republicans will vote for free sugar almost if not quite to a man, and they will be joined by enough democrats to carry it. But then they will also vote to postpone the bill indefinitely, and in this the chances are that they will be joined by Hill, the two Louisiana senators, and at least one other democrat. Should this prove true, the Wilson bill will be set down in the great catalogue of the might-have-beens.

The house branch of the tariff struggle is quiescent, while the senate's position remains undefined. Three of the four house conferees have taken advantage of the senate struggle to get out of town and secure much needed rest. Mr. Wilson is at his West Virginia home, Mr. Montgomery has gone to Kentucky and Mr. McMillin to New York. This leaves Mr. Turner as the only house conferee in town, so that overtures to or from the house could not be made if desired. In short, the house appears to be leaving the question entirely with the senate for the present.

FUNSTON MAY BE UNSEATED.

Indications That Moore Will Get the Seat for the Second Kansas District.

WASHINGTON, July 23.—The program in the house for the coming week will depend largely upon the tariff problem, to which all present arrangements must give way. To-day is District of Columbia day, and Tuesday and perhaps Wednesday will be devoted to the consideration of the Moore-Funston contested election case from the Second Kansas district, in which Moore claims the election by 1,254 votes, and Funston, the sitting member, by eighty-one votes. The majority of the committee has reported in favor of Moore, the contestant, and Funston will undoubtedly be unseated, despite the minority report in his favor. The remainder of the week will be given to the consideration of bills reported from various committees, subject to the decision of the committee on rules, which meets to-morrow. Under any rule that is adopted, however, conference reports will have the right of way and should any report be made on the tariff bill it will receive instant and immediate consideration, to the exclusion of all other legislative matter.

The Illinois Republican Convention.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., July 23.—It is entirely safe to say the convention which meets here Wednesday will be the greatest in point of numbers ever held in Illinois within the memory of the present generation. The hotel people say from letters and telegrams received the meeting is going to be a whooper, and the hotel people usually know what they are talking about when it comes to a crowd. The convention will be bigger than that of 1880, during the memorable Grant fight.

Knights of Labor as Militiamen.

NEW YORK, July 23.—In the various places in which local and district assemblies of the Knights of Labor meet there is a rumor that General Master Workman James R. Sovereign had issued an order to all Knights of Labor in the country to join the militia. Secretary Patrick Murphy of D. A. Mo. 49, K. of L., when seen, said he did not know of any order issued by General Master Workman Sovereign with regard to militia.

Meeting is Postponed for One Year.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, July 23.—Grand Army of the Republic men in this city have been in correspondence with Gen. H. V. Boynton, who says in a letter that all the members of the executive committee, with the exception of Gen. Rosecrans, have agreed to a postponement of the Chickamauga meeting for one year, so that it will occur at the same time as the dedication of Chickamauga park. Gen. Rosecrans has not yet been heard from.

Preparing for a Big Convention.

DES MOINES, Iowa, July 23.—Nearly all the candidates for the various positions on the republican state ticket have arrived and opened their headquarters. Every available parlor at the leading hotel has been engaged for weeks by the candidates, and the delegates will find the largest and most effusive reception committee that has ever met them at a state convention in Iowa.

Breckinridge Has Been Expelled.

LEXINGTON, Ky., July 23.—Col. Breckinridge has been expelled by the Masons here. The facts concerning his expulsion can not be secured from the members of the masonic order, but the new enrollment list for Lexington lodge No. 1, Ancient, Free and Accepted Masons, does not include the name of W. C. P. Breckinridge as it formerly did.

Ranches Ruined by a Cloudburst.

SALTILLO, Mexico, July 23.—Advices have reached here of a cloudburst which occurred in the mountains of the Prieta district, southwest of this city. CHINESE AND JAPS
THIRST FOR BLOODTWO ALMOND-EYED NATIONS READY FOR WAR.

The Trouble Now Seems Certain, as Both of the Countries Are Getting in Shape For the Conflict—Precautions Taken To Prevent Santo's Escape—General Cable News.

SHANGHAI, July 23.—China continues to make preparations to assert its claimed rights in Korea, and from the indications it is judged war is inevitable unless Japan recedes from the position it has hitherto maintained. Orders were recently issued for 12,000 Chinese troops to prepare for departure to Korea. The preparations were hurriedly completed and Friday last the soldiers went on board the transports that will convey them to the peninsula. To guard against contingencies the transports were conveyed by eight gunboats, the commanders of which were instructed to fire upon the Japanese should the latter attempt to obstruct the leading of the Chinese.

Warlike preparations are also being made in other directions. A strong body of troops will shortly leave Foochow for the Loo Choo islands. It is the government's intention to employ the Nakin and Canton fleets in harassing the Japanese coast if actual hostilities are commenced. Orders have been sent to every Chinese province calling upon each of them to furnish 20,000 troops to aid in the support of the government.

LONDON, July 23.—A telegram from Yokohama reports the acceptance by Korea of the reforms proposed by Japan is conditional upon the withdrawal of the Japanese troops from Korea. The Japanese government was surprised at this stand, which is supposed to prove that Chinese influence paramount in Korea. In the direct negotiations between Tokio and Peking China has so far ignored the Japanese counter proposals.

A dispatch to the Times from Shanghai says war between China and Japan is considered certain.

On his way to the court and back the prisoner will have a strong police and military escort. The court house will be guarded by infantry, and a battalion of police and an unbroken line of policemen will surround it. Only those having permits and cards of identification will be allowed to enter. The prisoner's dock has been removed from the court room so as to make space for the reporters, eighty of whom will be accommodated. A special seat has been made for Cesario.

One Hundred and Forty Drowned.

ODESSA, July 23.—It is now certain that 140 persons went down with the Italian steamer Columbia which collided with the Russian steamer Vladimir in the Black sea a few days ago. All the evidence badly incriminates the Russian seamen, who deliberately abandoned the Columbia and its crew and passengers to their fate, although the vessel floated an hour and a quarter after the collision.

Gladstone's Eye Worse Again.

It is proposed that the organization shall embrace all classes of labor, except railway, and that it shall absorb the Knights of Labor and the Federation of Labor. In the meantime the American Railway Union is to absorb the Brotherhoods and other organizations of railway employees.

CHICAGO, July 23.—[Special]—The Allan Car Wheel Company at Pullman, opened up with three men this morning and the managers are certain that others will come. The situation there this morning was more serious than at any time since the strike, and many extra police were sent there this morning. The mobs are gathering constantly but so far have been easily dispersed.

BIRMINGHAM, ALA. TERRIFIED.

Mobs Said to Be Marching on the City to Sack It.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., July 23.—On account of the serious state of affairs growing out of the miners' strike, both the police force and fire department have been doubled. It has been currently rumored that the big fire Friday night was incendiary. There have been rumors that the striking miners intend to march to Birmingham in a body and attack and set fire to the city and release the 120 strikers now in jail charged with the Pratt mines riot. The water works company has placed guards along the water main for five miles to the reservoir. Some think the water was cut off during Friday night's fire by miscreants. Nearly every citizen is armed and the citizens' reserve forces recently organized are ready for action. The Third regiment of state troops arrived here yesterday, replacing the First regiment. The Second regiment is also on duty. Scouts are sent out every hour to watch the movements of any suspicious bodies of men. Gov. Jones says the law will be upheld at all hazards. Much apprehension is felt.

REFUSE TO CONSIDER IT ENDED.

Oakland and San Francisco Strikers Will Continue the Struggle.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., July 23.—The Oakland and San Francisco lodges of the American Railway Union decline to consider the strike off and announce they will stand firm. This course was determined by unanimous vote at special meetings held last night. The strikers deny there are any defections in their ranks and say the action of the Sacramento strikers in capitulating was caused by the weakening of only a few members.

Belleville Miners Not to Strike.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., July 23.—The coal miners of the Belleville (Ill.) district, whose wages conference began Saturday, yesterday decided by an overwhelming majority to not strike, but to work in any mine paying the scale, disagreements to be localized and not made general. Nearly all the operators in St. Clair county have agreed to the scale.

HOUTZDALE, Pa., July 23.—A largely attended mass-meeting of miners here yesterday decided to send a committee to Philadelphia to confer with the Berwind-White Coal company regarding wages. The committee is instructed to accept nothing less than 45 cents a ton.

No Switching Now Done at Night.

CHICAGO, July 23.—Sunday was quiet about the stock yards. With the exception of a drunken spree in which three men were badly cut with knives there was little excitement. Two trains got mixed up on Fortieth street, north of the yards, as a result of a misplaced switch. Another train was derailed on the Michigan Central road at Fortieth and Vincennes avenue during the afternoon. Both these cases were accidental. The stock yards company attempts no switching after dark. Superintendent Fitzgerald says it would not be safe.

May Call Away More Troops.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., July 23.—Gov. Altgeld was asked last evening when the remaining troops in Chicago would be recalled. In reply he said he could give no definite information, but that some of those still on duty would probably be relieved within the next few days. The present situation indicated, he said, that such action would be warranted by that time.

Petition for Impeachment from Des Moines Presented in the House.

WASHINGTON, July 23.—The first step looking toward the impeachment of Attorney-General Olney was taken in the house Saturday by Congressman John T. Hull of Iowa. It was in the shape of a petition from the citizens of Des Moines, who pray for the impeachment on the allegation that the attorney general has "misused his official position by the prostitution of the federal courts to oppress American citizens, used judicial processes in advance of judicial decrees and issued blank informations to be filled up by unauthorized persons." The petition has about one hundred signatures. Hull is a republican.

Montana Strike Is Broken.

BUTTE, Mont., July 23.—President Calderhead of the local A. R. U. admits the strike is broken. He said last night he thought the Montana union employees would go back to work in a day or two. This would confine the strike to the Union Pacific. Superintendent Burns of the Montana union has published a statement over his signature to the effect that all employees of the road not reporting for employment by to-morrow noon will consider themselves discharged.

NAMED THE THIRD MAN.

Strike Commission Now Said to Be Complete.

WASHINGTON, July 23.—The members of the Chicago strike commission have been decided on. In addition to Lyman Trumbull, whose selection was announced yesterday, the President has chosen for the third member a prominent New Yorker, who has always taken a deep interest in the cause of labor and whose judgment in questions of this kind is regarded as fair and impartial. This much has been indicated, but his name has not been mentioned except in confidence to one or two of the President's advisers. It is stated, however, that he has accepted and as soon as Judge Trumbull indicates his acceptance the commission will be appointed. Both of these selections originated with the President, although he made inquiries concerning Judge Trumbull of one or two of the Illinois politicians at the capital. The President is still awaiting a response from Judge Lyman Trumbull, who is at Old Mission, Mich. A reply is expected to-morrow, and, if it is favorable, as the President hopes and expects, the commission will be named on Tuesday. The third member of the commission, of course, will be Carroll D. Wright, labor commissioner, the law providing that he shall be ex-officio chairman of the board. The board is expected to proceed to Chicago as soon as possible after appointment, and the inquiry will likely begin early next week.

WAR ON ROCK ISLAND.

Oklahoma People Threaten to Blow Up Its Trains.

WICHITA, Kan., July 23.—While things at South End and Round Pond, O. T., were comparatively quiet yesterday in that no open attack has been attempted on the Rock Island railroad, it is evident to every one that it is only a calm before a storm that will break before long. The citizens assert their determination to enforce the city ordinances, which provide that trains must stop at certain points in the cities named, with dynamite if necessary, and the Rock Island officials as vehemently declare their trains will not stop. Last night sixty United States soldiers passed through here from Fort Leavenworth en route to Enid to convey the trains safely past the points of danger. They will then reinforce the troops already stationed

THE NAGS ARE HERE AND READY TO RACE.

JANESVILLE'S BIG MEETING BEGINS TO-MORROW.

Horses Are All in Good Shape and Have Gone Faster Each Heat—Many Janesville Flyers Are To Compete—Three Events on the First Day's Programme.

"Take Back!" "Take Back!" "Take Back!" "TAKE BACK!!!"

Ever hear Secretary McKinney's musical voice when he sang that song?

Then you want to go to the races tomorrow for there you can see the drivers exert their muscle when he calls and the horses fall back into their positions. Visions of "$50 fine" sail through their heads and they lose their ambition to get the "best of the scoring" at once. They say that the expression "take back" was born at the same time as the word "go," when horses were first taught to trot and both have been in use at race tracks "ever since hee" was a pup," which the old miner claimed, was a period antedating the somewhat famed "big wind." Ancient history, however, is secondary to the big race meeting that Janesville people will see this week. Tomorrow the horses will get the word and the battle for the liberal purses that the Janesville Driving Park association have hung up will begin. There is a strong probability that the week will develop some sensational work on the beaten path. Six weeks' bruising work in front of drivers whose pockets are not bulging with cash the way they used to three or four years ago, has put the horses "on edge" and made them in condition to respond to the call for more speed.

No Green Ones Around Now.

The horses that Janesville people will watch are not "green colts" or "plugs" that were jogged about the barnyard hitched to two old cultivator wheels with a soap box between them. They are race animals that competition in other towns has hardened for the fight. Since Janesville's meeting last June the flyers have met at Milwaukee, Oshkosh, Fond du Lac and Waukesha, in Wisconsin, and Mendota, Roodhouse and Aurora, in Illinois, not to speak of Tiffin and Toledo, Ohio, or Detroit, Michigan, in the grand circuit. Janesville's meeting draws the animals that have gone to these towns and that they are in the pink of condition is a foregone conclusion. Records for both horses and tracks have gone down like wheat before the reaper this season and as the drivers want the money they will continue to fall until the utmost limit of the speed of the animals is reached. Perhaps results at Fond du Lac speak as loudly as any. The fastest mile in the free-for-all pace was 2:11, in the 2:24 trot 2:17, in the 2:30 trot 2:19. When a man will give a horse that was eligible to the 2:30 class, a mark of 2:19 it shows that it is money that he wants more than glory and applause from the grand stand.

Hot Contest Set For Tomorrow.

The first race to-morrow is between fifteen 2:45 trotters. The Judge, a Round Sprague horse, that is entered here, has won two or three races for his class in fast time, but there are fourteen others to figure on beside him. The second race is the 2:27 trotters' class. There are fourteen entries and among them are Dandy L., who won a heat in that class at Waukesha, and Ben Gaines, who won his race here last June. The third event is the three year old and under pace with nine named to start. Among them is Marks Maid, who won at Waukesha in 2:21 and was afterward defeated by Sphinxetta, who will also meet her here, in a six-heat race, the best time being 2:26.

The horses named for the entries are as follows:

LOCAL HORSES WILL GO TO-MORROW.

H. D. McKinney, J. C. Chadwick, L. F. Holloway and D. W. Watt Enter Horses.

To-morrow's events have developed considerable local interest. Several local horses are entered, and of course Janesville people are glad to see a Janesville man win the money. In the 2:45 class, which comes off first, H. D. McKinney will have Alice Phallamont, while D. W. Watt has entered Glendale and Gentry. In the 2:27 John C. Chadwick has Aubrey and L. F. Holloway has Phallamiss. In this race Maud M., the Abdallah Hambletonian mare that was formerly owned by E. D. Miller, of the Hotel Myers, and trained by William Persons, is also entered. A Vogel, of Milwaukee, now handles her.

Notes For the Horsemen.

CHARLEY FORD, who will go in the free-for-all pace Thursday was in the same race at Detroit and was shipped from there to Janesville. Charley didn't get any money at the grand circuit town, nine horses beating him, the best time being 2:09. Albert E., who broke the Fond du Lac track record by pacing in 2:11 was in eighth place.

STRONTIA, a gray horse, who won a good race here last June, got second money at Detroit in the 2:18 class, winning a heat from Alor. The best time was 2:14. Jack Curry now handles Strontia.

HARRY PENNINGTON, who won his race here last June was in the D trot 2:24 class and got fourth money the best time being 2:14.

MAYFLOWER HAULS SAND TO DAM.

Scow Loads of Gravel Used to Strengthen the Structure.

If anyone thinks Rock River is not navigable, for a distance at least, they should go up to Fourth Avenue bridge and see Captain Griffiths hauling sand with the Mayflower and Captain Buchholz's big scow to strengthen up the dam. The sand is secured at "second sand bar" three-fourths of a mile up the river and several teams and two dozen men are engaged in getting it out and loading it on the scow. The steamer then tows the load down to the bridge and the deck hands navigate the scow under the bridge and shovel the sand off above the dam. The process strengthens the structure very materially and adds to make it high water proof.

RACINE BOYS STILL IN THE W. N. G.

New Company With Captain Wheeler in Command Will Be Formed.

When the Janesville Light Infantry go to Camp Douglas this summer they will sail see caps with "F." on them. That Racine will have a new company is an assured fact. A meeting was held recently and Major George H. Joachim was elected chairman and Marley Rogers secretary. A charter list of sixty names was presented. As sixty-five charter names are required, ten days' additional time was granted in which to get the remaining five. James Greeley was elected captain; Paul M. Malson, first Lieutenant and George M. Rogers second Lieutenant. The officers of the National guard will be here at the end of ten days to muster in the new company.

CAPT. BUCHHOLZ WANTS TO RETIRE

Falling Health Tells on the Proprietor of Crystal Springs.

"Yes, I want to sell out my interests at Crystal Springs Park, including the steamers Columbia and Enterprise, row boats and all," said Captain Alexander Buchholz in answer to a question by a Gazette reporter. "My health has been very poor for some time back, and I cannot stand the work and heat. I will sell the business cheap for cash, or trade for real estate. I hate to give it up, too, for it pays well, but am afraid of the consequences if I stay in it."

Captain Buchholz has always conducted his resort in a gentlemanly manner, and thereby has made many friends who will wish him success and recovered strength.

"MIDWAY" PAVEMENT DEDICATED.

Red Firecrackers and Music Made the Celebration a Lurid One.

South River street was opened with a blaze of glory Saturday night and red fire cannon crackers and music made the air fairly sizz. The Bower City band, the Amphion quartette and many citizens took part and the exercises were much enjoyed by a crowd who filled the street and blocked the sidewalks. The Milwaukee street end of the street was spanned by a sign reading "Entrance to Midway Plaisance" and the lower end by a similar sign that told the people that it was the lower end. The Irish Village and Old Vienna were also represented and the fun that people had couldn't be confined in half a dozen hogheads.

FIFTEEN BAPTIZED BY TENT WORKERS

REV. WELCH CONDUCTS THE HOLY RITE IN THE RIVER.

Fully Five Thousand People Saw the Ceremonies From Points of Vantage—Miss Obrist, Who Was Cured by Faith, Among Them—The Gazette Scored Again.

At least five thousand people witnessed the baptismal scene at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon at the foot of Prospect avenue. People massed on the railway bridge, the Milwaukee street bridge, and on either bank of the river. The high bank of the raceway had the appearance of a long row of well filled circus seats. It was the largest number of people ever congregated in this vicinity to witness a like scene. Evangelist Welch officiated and there were fifteen converts baptized—Miss Mary Obrist, Miss Emma Burdick, Miss Smith, a colored lady, Mrs. Charles Lawrence and six children, Mrs. Jones, Mrs. John Kline, Mrs. DeBaun, Mr. White and Mr. Little.

Rev. Welch departed somewhat from the usual form of baptism by immersion, especially from the custom followed hereabouts and as pictured in the good book. Usually ministers of the gospel go out into the water where it is waist deep, and there perform the holy rite, the convert standing. Rev. Welch did not venture into water deeper than eight inches. His converts were then commanded to kneel, and in this position the holy rite was administered.

Miss Obrist Was the Fourteenth.

Miss Obrist was the fourteenth to walk out into the calm waters. She came down to the river in a carriage, and assisted by an elderly gentleman, walked slowly to the river's margin. Miss Obrist stood remarkably erect and was apparently in the best of health. The evangelist took her by the arm, one arm supporting her back, and thus the two slowly walked out into the sin-cleansing waters. Miss Obrist, owing to her years of sickness was closely watched, and every move, every step was noted by all. Reaching a depth of eighteen inches of water, they halted. The evangelist bathed her head and face; she then slowly and calmly knelt down, and the holy rite was consummated. She arose from her kneeling posture apparently unaided, and returned slowly to the shore and to her carriage.

The Gazette disclaims any intention of misrepresenting Evangelist Welch, and but for his unchristian allusion to the paper in his tent meeting last night, would allow him to depart without comment on his remarks of last evening. The only misunderstanding between The Gazette and Mr. Welch is the fact that he thought The Gazette gave too much credit to Mr. Welch, whereas Mr. Welch insists that he was but the servant in the Lord's vineyard. That's all.

Criticized the Paper Harshly. "I want twenty-five dollars," said he last night. "We must have that sum. According to The Gazette editor that is only the price of one little devil."

He further criticized the paper, and because his hearers failed to cry "amen" as an endorsement of his stigmata, he calls them cowards.

It is reported that five dollars was the sum collected. The evangelist then continued his allusion to The Gazette claiming that it was a "Catholic-Methodist organ," his remarks being wholly in keeping with his abuse of not only The Gazette, but of the city churches that have refused to do his bidding.

It is understood the tent meetings will conclude with the services this evening, and that Evangelist Welch will then fold his tent and depart to other fields. The Gazette believes the people of this world are better and purer on account of religious teachings, therefore "with malice towards none, but with charity for all," the paper bids good bye to Evangelist Welch, hoping that even his work in Janesville, especially in relation to Miss Obrist, may result in lasting good.

EUGENE BEST PAID FOR LOYALTY

Raised From Brakeman to Passenger Conductor for Not Quitting.

Eugene Best's loyalty to the railroad that he works for in Minneapolis, has rendered him a substantial return, and from his position as brakeman on a freight train he has been elevated to conductor on a passenger between Minneapolis and La Crosse. Mr. Best is a son of Mrs. Best, the librarian of the public library and during the recent strike he stood by the company. The result was that the first time a conductor quit the managers gave Mr. Best his train. He had undergone exciting times during the strike and once succeeded in getting the freight train that he worked on made up and out of the yards by a clever stratagem while two hundred strikers who followed the false scent he threw out were thirsting for a chance to burn a few cars. His Janesville friends will be glad to hear of his good luck.

FIREMEN PLAY THE Y. M. C. A. NINE

The Game Is Scheduled For Friday, August 3.

The best game of base ball of the season will be played at Athletic park on Friday afternoon, August 3, between the Y. M. C. A. club and a detail from the fire department. A few days ago the enthusiastic ball tossers of the fire department thought it would be a good thing to challenge the Y. M. C. A. club, offering to give the Y. M. C. A. the entire gate receipts in case they made ten runs, otherwise the receipts were to be given to the city hospital. The Y. M. C. A. club being opposed to any chance game made the proposition that the clubs play simply for the honors of the game, dividing the receipts equally. Between the Y. M. C. A. building fund and the Firemen's Accident Relief fund. This appearing satisfactory, the game has been arranged for Friday, August 3, at 3:30 o'clock, and the game promises to be one of the best. Everyone will play ball.

CITY TAX ROLLS ARE MADE OUT

City Clerk Bates Finishes the Work Ahead of Time.

City Clerk Bates has completed the city tax rolls for the current year one week ahead of the usual time. The books now being ready to present to the council next Monday evening. The rate of taxation in the several wards varies a trifle, owing to the difference in the sums to be raised for ward purposes. In the First ward the rate is $16.10 on $1,000 valuation; in the Second ward $16.24 on $1,000; in the Third ward $16.56; in the Fourth ward $16.92, and in the Fifth ward which is the highest, $17.52. Clerk Bates is congratulating himself on the fact that in footing up the result of the complicated divisions of the tax to be raised upon the several items subject to taxation, his footings come within sixty-two cents of balancing. Frequently these footings vary many dollars.

"Davy Jones" Has Not Yet Conquered V. D. Atwood and Ross King.

Volney D. Atwood, who, in company with Ross King, is taking a trip down Rock river in a row boat writes The Gazette from Dixon, Ill., that the trip has been a very pleasant one with plenty of sailing and hard work. The voyagers stop in every town and were in Rockford one day. The river is much larger than it is here and is full of small islands. Large bluffs skirt the edges of the water for miles. All hands are well and there has been no mutinous demonstrations in the fo'castle.

A FAKE FOOT RACE BEAT THE SPORTS

JANESVILLE RUNNERS "TURN A TRICK" AT ALTON, ILL.

Modest Young Man Who Is Believed To Be James Collins, Showed the Boys What He Could Do, But Fell Short of the Mark in the Race.

Janesville sprinters "turned a trick" at Alton, Ill., yesterday and Altonites mourn. The fakirs are believed to be Harry Bethune and James Collins both of whom formerly made Janesville their headquarters. A dispatch from Alton says that a number of local sports were superbly taken in last evening by a couple of sprinters. Some days ago a modest young man came here and in the course of his visit met George Sauvage a local sprinter. He showed Sauvage how easily he could defeat him but kept his name a secret. In the meantime a sprinter named Bristow was stationed at Bunker Hill. Last evening at the Bathol race track Bristow and the unknown put in an appearance to see Sauvage and Elliot run 100 yards. After the race was over the unknown got a race with Bristow, and the Alton crowd backed the unknown for all they were worth, as they had seen his work in Alton. Of course the unknown was beaten and hundreds of dollars went to the fakirs. It is stated that the unknown is either Harry Bethune or Jimmy Ryan.

Teacher—Define obedience. Little Girl—Obedience is w'en girls don't go anywhere without asking and boys don't go anywhere without telling.

Travers—Look here, those shoes you made for me squeak. Shoemaker—They always squeak at the end of thirty days, sir, if the bill isn't paid.

Mrs. Slindiet—Why do you bring the dog into the house? Cook—Please, mum, the boarders always inquire after him w'en there is sausage for breakfast.

INCIDENTS AND ANECDOTES.

A Ballerat girl the other day confessed to having set her mother's house on fire "because she was tired of the place and wanted to go to some other neighborhood." She didn't burn the place down, but had her wish all the same by being taken into custody.

That was an awkward predicament John Lazzur, of Wilkesbarre, Pa., found himself in when he went to get married, and not finding his prospective bride hunted her up only to find that she had changed her mind. The worst of it was he had invited several hundred people and ordered a supper.

When the crown prince of Denmark attended an examination in a Copenhagen school the other day, he noticed that one of the little girls was so confused that she could not recite her lesson. He thereupon took her on his lap, after which she answered every question correctly, and naively explained later: "Why, the crown prince whispered all the answers to me."

Upon one occasion Horace Greeley's unimpeachable teetotalism was open to impeachment. He was dining at the house of an anti-slavery subscriber to the Tribune, who had a fondness for good dinners. When the dessert was brought on Mr. Greeley was asked if he would take some preserved peaches; and, when he replied in the affirmative, a saucerful of them were set before him. He consumed them with gusto, told of his liking for fruit, said they were particularly good, asked for more, extolled their peculiar flavor and inquired how they were preserved, that he might have some prepared for use in his own domicile. Not till Mr. Greeley's saucer had been emptied for the second time did his host let the secret out: "They are brandied peaches!" The champion of teetotalism expressed his disapproval of all alcoholic drinks, while his face beamed with satisfaction.

HARPER'S HISTORY OF THE WAR

Harper's Pictorial History is universally recognized as the best history of the war yet published. This superb work has never been sold for less than $16 to $30. It has been sold only by subscription and but a very few men have been able to buy it.

The pages are the same size as Harper's Weekly and the work contains all the illustrations appearing in that great paper during the war. The work was edited by Richard Grant White and Henry M. Alden and is authentic, complete and reliable.

We have made arrangements whereby we can furnish Gazette subscribers with this splendid history of twenty-six parts at ten cents a part. These twenty-six parts will contain over one thousand war pictures and will make two handsome volumes when bound.

Many official documents of priceless historic value are quoted in full in the copious foot notes, such for instance as Lincoln's inauguration speeches, articles of federation of the early states, constitution of the United States, ordinance of secession, and many important papers, speeches, etc. The war story is consecutive and very fascinating. The introductory chapters, leading up to the struggle, and the chapter on the reconstruction period, are by some of the first writers of the age.

Far From the Madding Crowd.

This what many a nervous sufferer wishes himself every day. But there will soon be no necessity to forsake the busy—albeit somewhat noisy—scenes of metropolitan life, if the nervous invalid will begin, and persist in the use of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which will speedily bring relief to a weak and overstrung nervous system. Day by day the body acquires vigor through the influence of this reliable tonic, and in the vitality which it diffuses through the system the nerves ceaselessly share. Sleep, appetite, digestion—all these are promoted by this popular invigorant, and if they are, why can doubt that the acquisition of health and nerve quietude will be speedy and complete? Constipation, biliousness, malaria, nausea, sea sickness and cramps in the stomach yield to this remedy.

A New York woman had a surgeon trim a pair of unshapely ears.

Camphor should not be placed next to furs, as it will make the color lighter.

Gen. Schofield has issued an order directing that all water intended to be drunk by soldiers should first be boiled. He hopes thus greatly to reduce disease in the army.

Silken fabrics should never be kept folded in white paper. The chloride of lime which is used to bleach the paper causes a chemical change in the silk, and injures the color.

Some folks still believe that only the Swiss watch is to be depended upon, but retail watch dealers say that the best American watches are as good as any. The most expensive Swiss watches have a more complicated machinery than the American watches, and it is more difficult, therefore, to have them properly repaired in this country than the American watch.

Catching cold is as easy as falling off a log, but it is not necessary to keep it caught. With the cold comes the consciousness of possession. Then is the time to begin the cure. The first requisite is a higher temperature. Turn on the heat, cover up warmly, take a lively walk, go through a little exercise, drink a cup of hot tea, milk, lemonade, chocolate or anything but alcohol to promote perspiration; if it is possible to get to sleep in a blanket or two the cold will be gone in an hour. Another cure is to take five or ten grains of quinine and a hot drink on retiring and sleep in a woolen gown; on rising take another five grain pill and one-half an hour before meals.

WILLIAM MCCARTY, the wild man of Spaulding's lake, has been captured again, and he is now confined in the county jail awaiting the arrival of officers from Mendota insane asylum, when he will be taken to that institution. Yesterday morning Officer Cochran went to the lake, and soon found McCarty hidden in a haystack.

EVERYONE who has occasion to pass over West Milwaukee and Academy streets from the Grand hotel to the passenger depots, is wondering why property owners on those streets are remaining so quiet in relation to block paving. To improve the two streets by putting down block pavements would cause all to rejoice. Besides, the improvement would increase the value of property and trade many times greater than the cost of improvement.

A Good Dresser.

Hon. William Smith, the handsome senator from the South district, is seasonable in everything. He looked particularly spruce this morning while on his way to the station, in his new straw hat, light blue necktie, a new pair of russet shoes, a pair of kid gloves to match, and a handsome laundered shirt that one could almost see themselves in. Mr. Stanton of the Riverside Steam Laundry, who passed him, remarked: "Our senator is the first man to realize the value of a first class laundry. He always has his work done here. He sets the style for Janesville gentlemen nowadays."

VALUABLE PATENT FOR MRS. H. A. DOTY

ELECTRIC RAILWAY INVENTED BY HER HUSBAND.

Worked on It Before He Was Taken Sick, and Perfected It During the Time He Was About Before He Died—Machine Remarkably Simple, But Works Perfectly.

Like a message from the dead came a letter to Mrs. Henry A. Doty, last Friday. It was from Munn & Co., the Washington patent attorneys and publishers of the Scientific American, and contained the letters patent for an invention upon which her late husband had worked for a year to perfect and upon which the last work that he did before his death had been bestowed.

The patent is on an electric street railway system that does away with the trolley and runs the cars from an underground current.

The invention is simple in the extreme.

Two flexible metal shoes take the current from insulated underground conductors by means of lugs attached to the conductor wires and clamped by the shoes on both their upper and under sides. From the shoes wires extend to the motor above, the conductors being laid in a conduit with a slot in the center similar to the cable conduct now in use. A skillful arrangement of rollers allows for the "play" of the car laterally and the spring of the metal shoes. These allow the car to bob up and down, as they all do, without breaking the current. This has always been a fatal defect in underground systems, but with the Doty invention it is impossible.

Simplicity a Great Advantage.

So simple is the invention, and yet so practical, that it will probably do away entirely with the death-dealing trolley. It is claimed that the cars can be run anywhere; across bridges, for instance, which a cable car cannot do. Previous inventions of the kind have been so complicated that only an electrician could understand them. Hundreds of springs, screws, etc., have made the inventions valueless while the Doty machine is so simple that any one can understand its principle. Mrs. Doty will at once lay the invention before Chicago people.

Mr. Doty had been engaged in perfecting the device for some time past and his last work, done during the six weeks that he was about, just previous to his death, was upon it and resulted in the finishing of the model, descriptions and drawings. Then he was taken sick again and died without alluding to it. Before his death he assigned the device to his wife and she heard nothing more of it until the patent came last week. Since then her mails have been heavy with circulars and letters relating to street railways. Mr. Doty's confidence in the invention was unbounded as he had tested the model with the current from an incandescent light and found that it worked perfectly.

MANY GUESTS FROM ABROAD.

They Are Coming to Janesville August 1, to the A. O. H. Picnic.

Delegations from Milwaukee, Fond du Lac, Eau Claire, Chippewa Falls, Darlington and Beloit in Wisconsin, and Chicago, Rockford and Harvard, Illinois, have assured the committee of arrangements of the picnic to be given by Division No. 3, Ancient Order of Hibernians, that they will visit Janesville on Wednesday of next week, August 1, and participate in the festivities. The picnic promises to be one of the best ever given and all who attend will be well repaid.

M. V. Gannon, president of the Irish National League, who will deliver the principal address, is a speaker of national reputation and there will be nothing left undone by the committee that will in the slightest degree contribute to the comfort of their patrons. The Bower City band, the Amphion quartette and James Touhey the piper, will furnish the music and Smite's orchestra will play for the dance in the evening.

Dull Times the Cause.

It's no secret that business has been backward of late. Not caring to carry over any of our summer goods accounts for the wonderful values we are giving in our present "low price sale." This would sound well if there were any more growing on our backs. There isn't a bit there. We keep hustling and keep it off; our values have come to stay, and we shall continue to give just such bargains every day through the year. Watch our advertisements in every issue of this paper and keep posted on what we are doing. Bring $5 to the big clothing store to-morrow and take your choice of any boy's long pants summer suit, which formerly sold at $7.00 to $10.00.

TEST STATE'S FIRE PROTECTION. Chief Spencer Will Pass Upon the City Water Supply.

The state board of control will arrive in Janesville tomorrow morning and go to the school for the blind, where they will witness a test of the water works. The test will be made by the fire department, it being agreed between Superintendent Pease of the school for the blind, and Superintendent Mitchell of the water company, that Chief Engineer Spencer make the test. The only point is to ascertain if the water company can fulfill their contract with the state in case of fire at the state building, namely, to throw three good fire streams. Chief Spencer will make a number of service test, commencing promptly at 10 o'clock in the morning. The members of the state board return to Madison in the afternoon.

AIR FULL OF LEAD UP ON PALM STREET

J. F. GIBBONS SAYS J. COCHRAN TRIED TO KILL HIM.

Several Strangers Were Bothering Gibbons' Daughter at 2 a. m., and When Gibbons Interfered, He Was Met by Bullets—Young Man Jailed for a Brutal Offense.

Three pistol shots fired in quick succession at 2 o'clock this morning aroused the people on Palm street, and for a brief time all was excitement. An attempt had been made to murder John F. Gibbons, who resides at 251 Palm street. The bullets missed the old man, and he was able soon after to reach the officers, and secured a warrant for the arrest of James Cochran, whom he recognized as the man who attempted to take his life.

Mr. Gibbons has a daughter whose husband is employed on the railway, and of necessity is away from home nights. During her husband's absence the daughter has been much annoyed by rough characters congregating in the neighborhood. So far has this been carried on that the frightened woman, during the absence of her husband, goes to her father's home to stay nights. This she did last night. At 2 o'clock this morning Mr. Gibbons was aroused from sleep by an unusual noise around his daughter's home. Going out he discovered three men trying to break into the house. He endeavored to drive them off when he claims Cochran fired upon him with a revolver, three shots being fired.

WILSON LANE,

LIVES THAT ARE WORTH THE LIVING.LIVES THAT SHINE IN HIS-TORY'S PAGES.Dr. Talmage Preaches an Eloquent Sermon Through the Press—Life Is Always Worth Living when It Is a Christian Life.BROOKLYN, July 22.—Rev. Dr. Talmage, who is now touring in Australian cities, has chosen as the subject for to-day's sermon through the press:
"Worth Living," the text being taken from Lamentations II: 3, "Wherefore doth a living man complain?"If we leave to the evolutionists to guess where we came from and to the theologians to prophesy where we are going to, we still have left for consideration the important fact that we are here. There may be some doubt about where the river rises and some doubt where the river empties, but there can be no doubt about the fact that we are sailing on it. So I am not surprised that everybody asks the question, "Is life worth living?"Solomon in his unhappy moments says it is not. "Vanity," "vexation of spirit," "no good," are his estimate.
The fact is that Solomon was at one time a polygamist and that soured his disposition. One wife makes a man happy; more than one makes him wretched. But Solomon was converted from polygamy to monogamy, and the last words he ever wrote, as far as we can read them, were the words "mountains of spices." But Jeremiah says in my text life is worth living.In a book supposed to be doleful, and inglorious, and sepulchral, and entitled "Lamentations," he plainly intimates that the blessing of merely living is so great and grand a blessing that though a man have piled on him all misfortunes and disasters he has no right to complain. The author of my text cries out in startling intonation to all lands and to all centuries, "Wherefore does a living man complain?" A diversity of opinion in our time as well as in olden time. Here is a young man of light hair, and blue eyes, and sound digestion, and generous salary, and happily affianced, and on the way to become a partner in a commercial firm of which he is an important clerk. Ask him whether life is worth living. He will laugh in your face and say: "Yes, yes, yes!" Here is a man who has come to the forties. He is at the tip-top of the hill of life. Every step has been a stumble and a bruise. The people he trusted have turned out deserters, and the money he has honestly made he has been cheated out of. His nerves are out of tune. He has poor appetite, and all the food he does eat does not assimilate. Forty miles climbing up the hill of life have been to him like climbing the Matterhorn, and there are forty miles yet to go down, and descent is always more dangerous than ascent. Ask him whether life is worth living, and he will draw out in shivering and lugubrious and appalling negative, "No, no, no!"How are we to decide this matter righteously and intelligently? You will find the same man vacillating, oscillating in his opinion from dejection to exuberance, and if he be very mercurial in his temperament it will depend very much upon which way the wind blows. If the wind blow from the northwest and you ask him, he will say, "Yes," and if it blow from the northeast and you ask him, he will say, "No." How are we then to get the question righteously answered? Suppose we call all nations together in a great convention on eastern or western hemisphere, and let all those who are in the affirmative say "Aye" and all those who are in the negative say "No." While there would be hundreds of thousands who would answer in the affirmative, there would be more millions who would answer in the negative, and because of the greater number who have sorrow and misfortune and trouble the "Noes" would have it. The answer I shall give will be different from either, and it will commend itself to all who hear me this day as the right answer.
I answer, it all depends upon the kind of life you live.In the first place, I remark, that a life of mere money getting is always a failure, because you will never get as much as you want. The poorest people in this country are the richest, and next to them those who are half as rich. There is not a scissor grinder on the streets of New York or Brooklyn who is so anxious to make money as these men who have piled up fortunes year after year in store houses, in government securities, in tenement houses, in whole city blocks.
You ought to see them jump when they hear the fire bell ring. You ought to see them in their excitement when some bank explodes. You ought to see their agitation when there is proposed a reformation in the tariff.
Their nerves tremble like harp-strings, but no music in the vibration.
They read the reports from Wall street in the morning with a concern-ment that threatens paralysis or apoplexy, or, more probably, they have a telegram or a telephone in their own house, so they catch every breath of change in the money market. The disease of accumulation has eaten into them—eaten into their hearts, into their lungs, into their spleen, into their lives, into their bones.Chemists have sometimes analyzed the human body, and they say it is so much magnesia, so much lime, so much chloride of potassium. If some Christian chemist would analyze one of these financial behemoths he would find he is made up of copper, and gold, and silver, and zinc, and lead, and coal, and iron. This is not a life worth living. There are too many earthquakes in it, too many agoniesin it, too many perditions in it. They build their castles, and they open their picture galleries, and they summon prima donnas, and they offer every inducement for happiness to come and live there, but happiness will not come.They send footmanned and postil-lions equipped to bring her; she will not ride to their door. They send princely escort; she will not take their arm. They make their gateways triumphal arches; she will not ride under them. They set a golden throne before a golden plate; she turns away from the banquet. They call to her from upholstered balcony; she will not listen. Mark you, this is the failure of those who have had large accumulation.And then you must take into consideration that the vast majority of those who make the dominant idea of life money-getting fall far short of affluence. It is estimated that only about two out of a hundred business men have anything worthy the name of success. A man who spends his life with the one dominant idea of financial accumulation spends a life not worth living.So the idea of worldly approval. If that be dominant in a man's life he is miserable. The two most unfortunate men in this country for the six months of next Presidential campaign will be the two men nominated for the Presidency. The reservoirs of abuse, and diatribe, and malediction will gradually fill up, gallon above gallon, hoghead above hoghead, and about autumn these two reservoirs will be brimming full, and a hose will be attached to each one, and it will play away on these nominees, and they will have to stand it, and take the abuse, and the falsehood, and the caricature, and the anathema, and the catervauling, and the filth, and they will be rolled in it and rolled over and over in it until they are choked, and submerged, and strangled, and at every sign of returning consciousness they will be barked at by all the hounds of political parties from ocean to ocean. And yet, there are a hundred men to-day struggling for that privilege, and there are thousands of men who are helping them in the struggle.
Now, that is not a life worth living.
You can get slandered and abused cheaper than that! Take it on a smaller scale. Do not be so ambitious to have a whole reservoir rolled over on you.
But what you see in the matter of high political preferment you see in every community in the struggle for what is called social position.Tens of thousands of people trying to get into that realm, and they are under terrific tension. What is social position? It is a difficult thing to define, but we all know what it is. Good morals and intelligence are not necessary, but wealth, or the show of wealth, is absolutely indispensable.
There are men to-day as notorious for their libertinism as the night is famous for its darkness who move in what is called high social position. There are hundreds of out-and-out rakes in American society whose names are mentioned among the distinguished guests at the great levees. They have annexed all the known vices and are longing for other worlds of diabolism to conquer. Good morals are not necessary in many of the exalted circles of society.Neither is intelligence necessary.
You find in that realm men who would not know an adverb from an adjective if they met it a hundred times a day, and who could not write a letter of acceptance or regrets without the aid of a secretary. They buy their libraries by the square yard, only anxious to have the binding Russian. Their ignorance is positively sublime. Making English grammar almost disreputable. And yet the finest parlor open before them. Good morals and intelligence are not necessary, but wealth, or a show of wealth, is positively indispensable. It does not make any difference how you got your wealth, if you only got it. The best way for you to get into social position is for you to buy a large amount on credit, then put your property in your wife's name, have a few preferred creditors, and then make an assignment. Then disappear from the community until the breeze is over and then come back and start in the same business. Do you not see how beautifully that will put out all the people who are in competition with you and trying to make an honest living? How quickly it will get you into high social position!
What is the use of forty or fifty years of hard work when you can by two or three bright strokes make a great fortune? Ah! my friends, when you really lose your money, how quick they will let you drop, and the higher you get the harder you will drop.Amid the hills of New Hampshire, in olden times, there sits a mother.
There are six children in the household—four boys and two girls. Small farm. Very rough, hard work to coax a living out of it. Mighty tug to make the two ends of the year meet. The boys go to school in winter and work the farm in summer. Mother is the chief presiding spirit. With her hands she knits all the stockings for the little feet, and she is the milliner for the boys, and she is the milliner for the girls. There is only one musical instrument in the house—the spinning wheel. The food is very plain, but it is always well provided.
The winters are very cold, but are kept out by the blankets she quilted.
On Sunday, when she appears in the village church, her children around her, the minister looks down, and is reminded of the Bible description of a good housewife—"Her children arise up and call her blessed; her husband also, and he praiseth her."Some years go by, and the two eldest boys want a collegiate education, and the household economies are severer, and the calculations are closer, and until those two boys get their education there is a hard battle for bread. One of these boys entersthe university, stands in a pulpit widely influential, and preaches righteousness, judgment and temperance, and thousands during his ministry are blessed. The other lad who got the collegiate education goes into the law, and thence into legislative halls, and after a while he commands listening senates as he makes a plea for the downtrodden and the outcast. One of the younger boys becomes a merchant, starting at the foot of the ladder, but climbing on up until his success and his philanthropies are recognized all over the land. The other son stays at home because he prefers farming life, and then he thinks he will be able to take care of father and mother when they get old.Of the two daughters, when the war broke out, one went through the hospitals of Pittsburg Landing and Forress Monroe cheering up the dying and homesick and taking the last message to kindred far away. So that every time Christ thought of her he said, as of old, "The same is my sister and mother." The other daughter has a bright home of her own, and in the afternoon or the forenoon, when she has been devoted to her household, she goes forth to hunt up the sick and to encourage the discouraged, leaving smiles and benediction all along the way.But one day there start five telegrams from the village for these five absent ones, saying: "Come, mother is dangerously ill." But before they can be ready to start they receive another telegram, saying: "Come, mother is dead." The old neighbors gather in the old farm house to do the last offices of respect. But as that farming son, and the clergyman, and the senator, and the merchant, and the two daughters stand by the casket of the dead mother taking the last look, or lifting their little children to see once more the face of dear old grandma, I want to ask that group around the casket one question: "Do you really think her life was worth living?" A life for God, a life for others, a life of usefulness, a useful life, a Christian life is always worth living.Neither would I have hard work to persuade you that Grace Darling lived a life worth living—the heroine of the lifeboat. You are not wondering that the duchess of Northumberland came to see her and that people of all lands asked for her lighthouse, and that the proprietor of the Adelphi theater in Philadelphia offered her $100 a night just to sit in the lifeboat while some shipwreck scene was being enacted.But I know the thoughts in the minds of hundreds who read this.
You say: "While I know all these lives worth living, I don't think my life amounts to much." Ah! my friends, whether you lead a life conspicuous or inconspicuous, it is worth living, if you live right. And I want my next sentence to go down into the depths of all your souls. You are to be rewarded, not according to the greatness of your work, not according to the holy industries with which you employed the talents you really possessed. The majority of the crowns of heaven will not be given to people with ten talents, for most of them were tempted only to serve themselves. The vast majority of the crowns of heaven will be given to people who had one talent, but gave it all to God. And remember that our life here is introductory to another.
It is the vestibule to a palace; but who despises the door of the Madeleine because there are grander glories within?
Your life if rightly lived is the first bar of an eternal oratorio, and who despises the first note of Haydn's symphonies? And the life you live now is all the more worth living because it opens into a life that shall never end, and the last letter of the word "time" is the first letter of the word "eternity."

Is a handy thing to have around the house. Most unmarried women expecting some day to have one. Those women who have a good husband will be glad to learn how to keep him good natured. Some one has said that "the road to a man's heart lies through his stomach." This may be a bit on the nose, but we are sure that nothing so tends to keep him good natured as nicely well-seasoned food. If you would have food most tasty you must use our Currie Powder. To demonstrate the fact that we have

MRS. IDA CASLER.

Her Advice to Over-Ambitious Women.

[SPECIAL TO OUR LADY READERS.]

Mrs. Ida Casler, of 126 Olive Street, Syracuse, N.Y., believes that there is no amount of money large enough to equal a good,
sound, healthy constitution.Here is a history of her case:—She was so ill with falling of the womb and leucorrhoea that she could not stand. She was attended by several doctors without benefit, and was completely discouraged.One evening she heard what Lydia E.
Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had done for other women, and decided to try it, together with Mrs. Pinkham's Sanative Wash, and it is well she did, for she says:—"I am now well and strong. I am not troubled with either trouble, and all owing to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.""If more women would use the Compound there would be less suffering in the world. Many women bring on their troubles by over-work. Remember good health will outbid riches every time."

HOW TO KEEP COOL.

Here's a Man Who Claims He Has a Never-Failing Recipe.

"I suppose you would like to know how to keep cool these hot days," said a well-known newspaper man.

"Well, I have an unfailing recipe which can be guaranteed to effect the desired result. I use it myself, and know the system is a specific for the woes which mankind suffers in dog-day weather. It is simple and easy—don't eat any meat till the sun goes down. I have made this an inviolable rule during the hot weather, and as a consequence I am never bothered about or by the condition of the atmosphere, no matter how high the thermometer may soar. This morning for my breakfast I ate a piece of strawberry shortcake and drank a cup of coffee. For luncheon I partook of some lettuce and tomato salad and a cup of tea. I will go in to dinner in a few moments, and probably will order a thick rare steak, and pay pretty generous attention to it. Then I will come out and for an hour or two will probably be uncomfortably warm for the first time during the day. I was lead to adopt this system from observing the immunity from suffering on account of the heat which the workmen in hot countries enjoy. This was particularly the case in Spain and Italy, and when I inquired the reason I was told that a Spaniard or Italian workman would rather eat kerosene with a wick in it than meat of any kind during hot weather.

GEORGE WAS AN ATHLETE.

Could Have Won the Championship Up to 1889.

There is an athletic record which, though it will not be found in any of the sporting guides or almanacs of to-day, is one of which America ought to be proud. It was made by George Washington, the father of his country, in the running broad jump. The distance cleared was 22 feet 3 inches. Exactly when and where and under what conditions Washington did this performance I do not know. Thackeray refers to it in "The Virginians," where he tells of the jumping match between Harry Warrington and Lord March and Ruglen. Harry wins with a jump of 21 feet 3 inches against his lordship's 18 feet 6 inches. In his letter to Virginia Harry says he knew there was another in Virginia, Colonel G. Washington, who could clear a foot more.

If Thackeray's figures are correct Washington must have been a wonderful athlete. He could easily have won any intercollegiate championship competition up to 1889, and most of the national championships. Then, too, it must be remembered that the future father of his country did not wear spiked shoes like the athletes of to-day, nor did he have a cinder path for his "run," nor a five-inch plank for his "take-off," those improvements not having come into general use as early as the middle of the eighteenth century. Washington to-day would be a record breaker.

Tobacco and Muscular Strength.

Two eminent English physicians, Dr. Warren Lombard and Dr. Vaughan Harley, have recently made an important series of experiments regarding the influence of tobacco on muscular effort. That influence was not so marked in the experiments of Dr. Harley as in those of Dr. Lombard. The conclusion which Dr. Harley has reached is that moderate smoking, in one accustomed to it, neither increases the capacity for work nor retards the approach of fatigue; though in some cases it may slightly diminish muscular power and hasten the time in which fatigue overcomes the system.

Dimples at Their Best.

An eminent portrait painter says that there is no time in a girl's history when the celestial expression is more manifest, when dreamy eyes have so much soul in them, when delicate dimples look half so tender, when in fact the beautification is all there, as when soda water, the nectar of the gods, is floating down past the palate portal. For this reason the artist on hot days visits the palatial soda fountain for artistic study of dimples and beautiful expression.
